Environ LpH used as 5-7% as it comes from AirChem's "quick fill workstation"

Essentially all of the LpH used enters the septic tank. Lph is diluted through the AirChem "quick fill workstation" for decontamination of floors and work surfaces. There may be some evaporation but it is probably negligible. The 5% solutions that are used for soaking instruments are strained to remove particulates, diluted and sent down the drain. These volumes are included in the
